

Contents

Acknowledgments — vii

Introduction

The Conditions of Public Space: Vision, Speech, and Theatricality
Marcel Hénaff and Tracy B. Strong — 1

Part I. The World As It Has Come to Us: Power, Stage, Visibility — 33

1. Public Space and Political Autonomy in Early Greek Cities
Marcel Detienne — 41

2. Persona: Reason and Representation in Hobbes
Paul Dumouchel — 53

3. Representation of Power, Power of Representation
Jacqueline Lichtenstein — 66

4. Voice and Silence of Public Space: Popular Societies in the French Revolution
Shigeki Tominaga — 79

5. Aristophanes in America
J. Peter Euben — 95

Part II. The Contemporary World: Media, Public Space, and Democracy — 121

6. Stages of Democracy
Sylviane Agacinski — 129

7. Theatricality in the Public Realm of Hannah Arendt
Dana R. Villa — 144

8. Replacing the Body: An Approach to the Question of Digital Democracy

Samuel Weber — 172

9. Writing Property and Power

Anne Norton — 189

10. Mailed, Mauled, and Overhauled: Arresting Suburban Sprawl by Transforming Suburban Malls into Usable Civic Space

Benjamin R. Barber — 201

Conclusion: Public Space, Virtual Space, and Democracy

Marcel Hénaff and Tracy B. Strong — 221

Contributors — 223

Index — 235