

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
INTRODUCTION. The City: Experience, Imagination, and Place Alev Çınar and Thomas Bender	xi
Boundaries, Networks, and Cities: Playing and Replaying Diasporas and Histories Anthony D. King	1
PART I. The City and Its Boundaries
1. Economy and Gender in the Urban Borderland: The Public Culture of Laleli, Istanbul Deniz Yüksek	17
2. Borderlined in the Global City (of Angels) Camilla Fojas	37
3. Modernity on the Waterfront: The Case of Haussmann's Paris Margaret Cohen	55
PART II. Competing Narratives of the City: Contested Inclusions and Exclusions
4. Assembling Douala: Imagining Forms of Urban Sociality AbdouMaliq Simone	79
5. Cities without Maps: Favelas and the Aesthetics of Realism Beatriz Jaguaribe	100
6. Fateful Triangles: Modernity and Its Antinomies in a Mediterranean Port City Mark LeVine	121

PART III. The City and the Vision of the Nation

7. The Imagined Community as Urban Reality: The Making of Ankara Alev Çınar	151
8. Urban Space, National Time, and Postcolonial Difference: The Steel Towns of India Srirupa Roy	182
9. "Amman Is Not a City": Middle Eastern Cities in Question Seteney Shami	208
10. Let the Dead Be Dead: Communal Imaginaries and National Narratives in the Post-Civil War Reconstruction of Beirut Maha Yahya	236
CONCLUSION. Reflections on the Culture of Urban Modernity Thomas Bender	267
CONTRIBUTORS	279
INDEX	281